

Two Injured In Plane Crash

William Gast, 23, and Capt. Frank Trautman, 29, of the Kentucky Air National Guard, are in Mercy hospital, Battle Creek, undergoing treatment of injuries sustained in a plane crash here on Thursday. They were flown to the hospital in a helicopter from Camp Grayling. They had been treated at a hospital in Grayling since the accident.

Both Gast and Trautman are members of the 129th fighter wing of the Kentucky Air National Guard, which broke a training camp at Grayling last weekend to return home. Gast suffered second and third degree burns on both arms, cuts on his face and a knee injury. Trautman suffered a severe shoulder injury and multiple contusions. A helicopter dispatched from Seaford Air Force base took them to Battle Creek, when weather ruled out the use of conventional planes.

With Gast as pilot and Trautman as passenger in a T-33 (a World War II P-51 with dual controls), the two had just taken off in the Grayling Army Air Base when Gast noted the engine was overheating. He radioed he was landing in an emergency landing, but 200 feet off the runway coolant line broke, spraying him with boiling liquid coolant. Lt. Col. Lee J. Mackie, commander of the Kentucky Air National Guard, termed it a "miracle landing" and said that only Gast's cool-headedness and quick thinking saved the fliers. He landed the runway, but with such force he washed out the landing gear and damaged the propeller.

Atlas Closes For Month

The Atlas Plywood Corporation closed its Grayling plant on July 1 and does not plan to reopen production until August 17, it was announced by Cecil E. Steele, Grayling plant manager. The reason for the month's shutdown was two fold, Steele stated. Some needed repairs were going on in the plant while production has stopped, he said, as many employees wished vacations.

When production starts in August, it is planned to start the sawmill along with the plant, Steele said. The sawmill is brand new and has been built since it started operating the Grayling lumber manufacturing plant.

Pa. and W. Va. Governors Visit Air Base

The Air National Guard from Kentucky, West Virginia and both Carolina who were training at the Grayling Air Base held Governor's Day on Saturday, July 14, and Governor Wetherby of Kentucky and Governor Marland of West Virginia were among the honored guests.

Several of the Guard were decorated for outstanding service rendered during the camp and received their decorations from all Officers. Mrs. June Taylor was honored by being invited to ring "The Star Spangled Banner" during the decorating ceremonies, which she did without accompaniment.

For Lord's Sake Don't Call Me!

Newsweek recently printed a letter from one of its readers, John J. Wicker, Jr., which began: "Everybody is in favor of economy; everybody is in favor of reducing taxes—but—and this is always a big BUT—everybody wants the economy applied somewhere else."

Mr. Wicker then said this situation reminded him of an old British Army marching song which went about as follows:

"Call out the Army and the Navy
Call out the blooming rank and file
Call out the good old Territorials
They'll face the danger with a smile.
"Call all the old battalions that made old England free—
Call out my father, my brother, or any other—
But, for Lord's sake, don't call me!"

That attitude has been dominant for 20 years. We've finally reached the point where, if we are to have honest and economical government, which is as essential to our security and survival as military power itself, they're going to have call you!

"We must write over and over again the old copy-book maxims. Honesty is the best policy. There is no substitute for work. Folly brings its own penalty. Right living brings its own reward. The market place is mightier than any legislative hall." — W. Alton Jones.

Interesting Events In Grayling 23 Years Ago

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVALANCHE OF 23 YEARS AGO

July 24, 1930

The big thing in Grayling this week was the re-opening of the Rialto Theatre, that was destroyed by fire in April of this year. Throngs attended the opening on Tuesday night and were thrilled by its magnificence. It is one of the finest to be found anywhere—the very last word in cinema equipment.

Miss Edith Bidvia will represent Grayling at the Eastern Michigan Water Carnival to be held in Bay City next week having been chosen by a group of judges from among a group of five young ladies, who led the contest that has been going on. Jayne Keyport is alternate. Rosalie Stammeler will represent her home town, Fredonia, with Doris Corsaut, alternate.

Gov. Green and his staff were on hand last Saturday for the Governor's Review of the Michigan National Guard.

"Rube" Bobbitt, veteran game warden was given a plane ride by Lt. W. E. Nicol, they flying for many miles above the AuSable and Manistee Rivers, which "Rube" had traversed many years by boat and on foot. He said the ride was a great thrill. The editor and his wife were also taken for a ride to the higher altitudes. We hope no smooth airplane salesman happens around here for we fear we would be tempted to mortgage the print shop for one of those sky ships.

Mrs. Ida M. Cliff, age 69, mother of Harold Cliff, passed away suddenly Saturday at Mercy hospital.

Robert M. Reagan, M. C. R. R. conductor was found dead in his way car Tuesday morning at Mackinaw City. He is survived by his widow, the former Eva Robinson and one daughter. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Reagan.

Frank Foreman of Bay City called on old friends here Saturday.

Miss Mary T. Vance and Arthur J. Wakeley were united in marriage by Rev. J. W. Greenwood on July 16th.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Johnson entertained Prosecuting Attorney Carl Smith, wife and sons of Bay City over the week end.

Mrs. Walter B. Wheeler of Frederic passed away.

Jack Hull is spending a couple of weeks at Camp Daggett on Walloon Lake.

Mrs. E. E. Hartwick and Mrs. Nellie Prati of Detroit were weekend guest of the Axel Michelson family at Lake Margrethe.

Edgar McPhee of Detroit visited in Grayling over the week end.

Jack Zeder of Battle Creek and his cousin, Bill Neff of Bay City are enjoying a camping trip at Connine's Grove.

Mrs. George Smith of Detroit has been a guest of Miss Carrie Jorgenson.

George McCullough has been on the sick list.

46 YEARS AGO
July 25, 1907
Frank Ayers and wife, Fred McDonald, Peter McNeven, Andy Smith and James Kelley attended the funeral of E. B. Gilkey at Bay City on the 18th.

It stands to reason... Chevrolet trucks must be the best buy!

Big truck users, small truck users, all truck users buy more Chevrolet trucks than any other make. It stands to reason Chevrolet trucks must offer more of what you want.

When you stop to think about it, the best proof of outstanding value in any product is continued public preference. That's the way it is with Chevrolet trucks. They're the top selling trucks in America today . . . for the twelfth straight production year.

This is a mighty important fact to consider before you buy your next truck. You'll also want to consider that, while Chevrolet trucks give you more features you want, it's the lowest-priced truck line of all! Come in and talk it over with us.

Richard Barber Weds In East

In a double ring ceremony at St. Mary's Assumption church in Brookline, Mass., on July 4th, performed by the Rev. Fr. Finnegan, Miss. Joan Marie Godsoe became the bride of Richard K. Barber, M. M. 2.

Joan is the daughter of Mr. Ludlow Godsoe of Washington D. C. and Mrs. Gertrude Godsoe of Brookline. Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Foryst D. Barber of Grayling. Some 125 guests witnessed the three o'clock ceremony solemnized in a setting of white gardenias—roses—and gladiolus—that decorated the altar. Mrs. O'Hearn, organist presented wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin—trimmed with tiny satin covered buttons—down the front. It was fashioned with a train, lace collar and long sleeves.

Her lace trimmed finger tip veil was held in place by a tiara of pearls and she carried a bouquet of orchids, roses and gardenias.

The attendants, Mrs. Patricia Wolf, sister of the bride as matron of honor, Coral Gonyer, maid-of-honor, all of Brookline, wore gowns styled exactly alike. They were fashioned with lace bodices, full net skirts over taffeta, hoop style and ballerina length. With them they wore crownless hats of net and flowers, lace mitts and carried baskets of flowers. From the gowns, hats and accessories to the flowers they carried, each attendant wore just the one lone color, one green, one yellow, one blue.

Jerry G. Barber, R.M.S.N. of Grayling, who is serving aboard the U.S.S. Maloy, brother of the groom was bestman. Thomas Sayers, M.M.I. of Philadelphia and Eugene Walter, F.N. of Fort Wayne, Ind., both shipmates of the groom aboard the U.S.S. Cascade were ushers. The groom and his attendants were all in Navy uniforms.

The bride's mother wore a blue and white print dress and blue accessories, while the groom's mother chose a rose nylon dress and white accessories. Each had orchid corsages pinned to their gowns.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother for some 250 guests. The buffet table was decorated with white ribbon streamers and wedding bells and a three tiered wedding cake topped with wedding bells and trimmed with silver beads centered it.

Following a week's honeymoon trip in New York, the couple will be at home at 12 Dresser St. Newport, R. I. For travel the bride was attired in a pink suit with white hat and accessories.

The bride attended Brookline High School while the groom attended Grayling High School and has served six years in the Navy.

There were guests from New York City, Ogunquit, Me., New York, N. J., New London, Conn., Washington, D. C., Newport, R. I., Bedford, Mass., and Grayling.

YOUR MILK...

On a pleasant summer day, we strolled along what was once a winding road through the young forest. We came upon a clearing and abandoned house which we entered through the open, sagging doorway.

It was all hollowness within. We knew it once held happy human lives. As we looked into the mysteries of the past, we felt that same Divine power separates that unites and we circled on around in an old apple orchard. Many years their blossoms have fallen unseen. As we followed a worn path overgrown with grass that leads to a spring of cold water, we thought, perhaps in this busy world somewhere there is a man or woman who can paint this place in their mind as a fond and loving childhood home.

We cannot see any harm in telling you about our good milk, as long as we tell the truth. Uncle Sam will not pay a cent to the great unknown. It is as simple as this. Just call up Hunter's AuSable Dairy and tell them to deliver you some Crawford County produced milk.

Need To Find TB Early

The dollars that families of the Grayling area give for Christmas Seals each holiday season are helping to gain ground against tuberculosis. But a new study being distributed by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association shows that sanatorium treatment programs have forged ahead of campaigns to find TB.

Called "Tuberculosis in Michigan," the new survey was recently released by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. It will be widely used as a basis for tuberculosis work in Crawford County during the coming months, according to Joseph C. Austin, Royal Oak, President of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

Austin said success in holding down deaths from tuberculosis is largely a result of Michigan's effective hospital care program and of research.

But Crawford County, like the rest of the state, "needs to concentrate on finding TB in earlier stages," he declared.

The new survey shows that about 43 per cent of patients entering sanatoriums come with advanced disease, 36 per cent with moderately advanced tuberculosis and only 15 per cent with minimal type TB.

In the Foreword to the study, Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, declared that for every dollar spent in tuberculosis case finding more than thirty dollars is spent for treatment and isolation of the sick.

He commented that "nothing is more important than the early case finding program, but relatively little is being spent to carry out this paramount activity."

"The Michigan Tuberculosis Association joins whole-heartedly in the appeal for improved TB detection," said Austin. The new survey shows dramatic progress against tuberculosis in Michigan. But it also tells us that we have not stopped the spread of TB.

"Until we can force down the attack rate of this communicable disease, there is no room for complacency."

"Send 'em by Truck . . . We Need 'em Fast!"

The scene is the traffic department of any of the hundreds of manufacturing plants in Michigan. The time is 4:00 P.M. on any day of the week. The traffic manager is talking long distance to a supplier in another state about some parts needed for production.

"Send 'em by truck," he says, as he prepares to hang up, "we need 'em fast!"

He knows from experience that motor transport is the fastest link between shipping and receiving. He knows he can depend on it. In fact, he and thousands of his fellow traffic managers have been the men most responsible for the rapid growth of motor transport. Once they experienced the efficiency and speed of trucks, there was no satisfying them with anything less — and today their companies could not operate successfully without truck transport!

That's something for every wage earner in Michigan to think about.
